

THREE REPORTED SHOT BY BANDITS

Two Americans and an Englishman
Said to Have Been Killed When Chinese Troops Attack

OUTLAWS ASK HUGE RANSOM

More Than Score of Foreigners Captured Sunday After Bandits
Wreck Train in Shantung

(By United Press)

Peking, China May 7.—Two Americans and one Englishman are reported to have been shot when government troops attacked the bandits, holding more than a score of foreigners after the sensational train wrecking and kidnapping exploit of Sunday, in the south of Shantung province, in which the outlaws carried off more than 300 men and women passengers.

This latest report from the scene of one of the most daring pieces of outlaws in the history of China was received by the American consul from a foreign missionary near the bandit camp.

When the government troops began closing in, the bandits are declared to have made a human barricade of their prisoners, placing the foreigners in front of them, the bandits defending themselves with a brisk return of rifle fire in response to the attack on the soldiers.

Exposed thus to the fire of the soldiers who were endeavoring to rescue them, two Americans and one Englishman fell.

American and Great Britain tonight intervened in behalf of the American and British citizens kidnapped by the bandits.

The British and American legations served notice on the government in the form of a demand that China must obtain release of the captives and explain the situation, which is considered grave.

Five thousand soldiers have been detailed to the pursuit of the bandits and the hunt is now being vigorously pressed. The government admits that it is seriously embarrassed in its efforts to round up the outlaws. Following tactics they have pursued in the past, they may massacre their captives if they are sorely pressed by the troops.

It is pointed out that one of the conditions set forth in the terms forwarded by the bandits in their demand for one million dollars ransom, is that they be free from attack while negotiations for ransom are in progress.

The demand for the ransom was brought in from the bandits by an aged Chinese who had been taken prisoner with others on the train, but was released upon condition of his delivering the message.

ITALO-BRITISH NOTE TO DIFFER

London Cabinet Discusses Reply to German Reparations Offer Following French Answer

HEATED RESENTMENT FELT

Premier Poincare Rejects Berlin
Proffer Without Even Consulting
Great Britain

By LLOYD ALLEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, May 7.—Possibility of a joint Italo-British note to Germany, differing radically from that sent Sunday by France and Belgium, was discussed by London papers today as the cabinet met to consider the reparations situation.

After the cabinet discussed the matter of a note to Berlin, it was indicated this would be forwarded during the week.

Emphasizing British-Italian accord, the press reflects heated resentment understood to have been felt by the government when Premier Poincare went right ahead with a reply rejecting the latest German reparations offer without consulting Great Britain.

Text of a Franco-Belgian note was handed the German charge d'affaires at Paris last night. The French and Belgians declared the German offer of thirty billion gold marks inadequate and the guarantees proposed by Chancellor Cuno insufficient. Ruhr resistance must end the note said.

For two days Lord Curzon, acting British premier in the absence of Bonar Law, who is away on a trip for his health, sought to have the Franco-Belgian note held up and made a joint alleged document. Although they delayed delivery of the note out of deference to Curzon's wishes, the French and Belgians refused to change its tone of flat rejection of Germany's offer and finally sent it forward.

Political observers consider the press is over emphasizing the possibility of a definite break in the former entente cordials and an alignment of Britain and Italy on the one hand opposed to France and Belgium. But taken in conjunction with the visit of King George and Queen Mary to Rome, where they arrive today, the stress laid on Anglo-Italian amity is considered significant.

RAILROAD ISSUE TO DWARF ALL OTHERS

Three Sets of Plans For Settling
Transportation Problem Will Be Urged on Country

EXTREMES AND A COMPROMISE

(By United Press)
Washington, May 7.—Three sets of plans for settling the country's transportation problem will be urged on the country in a political battle over railroads, which dwarfs all other issues in the 1924 campaign.

President Harding and his administration will have one plan—a fairly definite program based upon consolidation of existing lines into a score of great systems.

Senator La Follette and his bi-partisan progressive bloc in congress will have another, based upon squeezing all of the water out of railroad valuations and a sort of half-way government control.

The democrats—or at least the McAdoo group of democrats—will have a third which probably will represent a compromise between the extremes of government ownership or control and a non-competitive consolidation plan.

All the politics are recognized in the railroad. This is the greatest of the issues confronting them, farmers, manufacturers, consumers, who are all stirred up about high rates and a threatened failure this summer, and fall of the railroads to meet the demand put upon them by big crops and renewed industrial activities.

He was removed to his home in West Second street, where a physician was summoned and dressed his injuries.

Akron, Ohio, May 7.—Joseph Allen Mills, missing Northwestern University student wanted for questioning in the death of Leighton Mount hazing victim, was held here today by Akron detectives. He was employed at a local tire manufacturing plant.

Mills was president of the freshman class of 1921 and leader of the class rush in which Mount was said to have been killed.

He had not shown up for work at the rubber plant since he saw newspaper accounts saying Chicago authorities were searching for him. Mills said he would give all the information he has about the class rush to the proper authorities.

"I was in the thick of the fight," Mills said, "and I ought to know all about it."

"I organized a searching party upon advice of Walter Dill Scott, Northwestern president, and led the hunt for a week."

Mills said he was not personally acquainted with Mount, but that he "must have seen him on the campus."

STATE HOST AT PARK CONVENTION

More Than 100 Conservationists
And Park Enthusiasts, Begin
Session In Indiana

GOVERNOR EXTENDS WELCOME

Three Day Conference Is Held Under Auspices Of Conservation Department—3rd Time Here

Turkey Run State Park, May 7.—The eyes of the nation were focused today on Indiana's centennial park where more than one hundred famed conservationists and park enthusiasts are gathering for a three day's convention at which the conservation and perpetuation of the nation's vast natural resources will receive added impetus. This is the third annual conference of the National Parks' Association, and the fact that this convention came to Indiana, signally honors the state as one of the leaders in conservation of natural resources—the acknowledged basis of state and national wealth—and of universal contentment.

The conference is held under the auspices of the state department of conservation. Governor Warren T. McCray, whose administration is marked by his vigorous support of better highways, higher educational facilities, conservation of natural resources and extension of a state park system, welcomed visitors. Response was by Judge John Barton Payne of Chicago, former Secretary of the Interior, and chairman of the convention.

While many attending motored to the park over excellent state roads, a special interurban car from Indianapolis arriving at Crawfordville about 11 o'clock brought a large delegation. Members of the Crawfordville Chamber of Commerce met delegates and conveyed them by autos over a picturesque highway to the primitive reservation. Others arrived via the C. I. & W. by way of Marshall.

The conference opened at 2 o'clock with an address of welcome by Governor McCray.

"Conservation of our natural resources and the inculcation of love and pride in our forest, our lakes and rivers and our primitive beauty spots is the patriotic duty of every citizen," declared the Governor.

"Ours is the responsibility of conserving and husbanding these wonderful God-given gifts of life health and happiness that generations to come may praise our stewardship and enjoy the natural heritage we have preserved not wasted or destroyed."

"The history of the progress of our state will be reflected in the record of this stewardship of things not made with hands, that have committed into our care and keeping."

LYONS TALKS WITH WATSON

Indianapolis, Ind., May 7.—Selection of a new Republican state chairman this week was predicted by party leaders here today. The state committee is expected to be called this week to accept the resignation of Lawrence B. Lyons as chairman. Senator James E. Lyons, the last man called in to talk with Watson, refused to make any comment on his future action. His friends, however, predicted that his resignation would be presented to the committee this week.

Clyde Walsh, of Lagrange, was regarded by party workers as the man most likely to be picked to succeed Lyons.

AMUSEMENTS

Wes Barry in "School Days"

Freddie-face Wesley Barry, the inimitable movie celebrity, will grace the screen of the Mystic today and Tuesday in his latest starring vehicle, "School Days," made from the Gus Edwards classic of the same name.

The very mention of the words "School Days" holds an appeal for young and old, and it is said that every mother who has boys, every man who remembers his boyhood, every human being who can thrill to the joys, the disappointments, the pranks and the glory of boyhood will gloat over the trials and tribulations of Speck Brown, better known to the screen world as Wes Barry.

Briefly, the story centers around a small town boy who loves the old swimmin' hole and his dog, Hippie, better than anything else in the world. He meets a wealthy uncle who sends him east to get an education. Here he meets many youngsters of wealthy parents, and he finds himself out of the social set. He is beset by many trials and tribulations, and finally he goes back home to his faithful dog and his little country sweetheart via the freight train route.

Jackie Coogan At Princess

Jackie Coogan gave us tears in "The Kid." He made us laugh with joy at his funny capers in "Peck's Bad Boy," and in his latest picture "My Boy," he again brought the search for the handkerchief.

Now comes his latest screen effort—"Trouble"—a picture that gives Jackie unlimited opportunities for both dramatic and comedy emotions. This newest First National is the first production in which the famous little fellow is given a chance to both be funny and serious, and it will be seen at the Princess Theatre for two days beginning today.

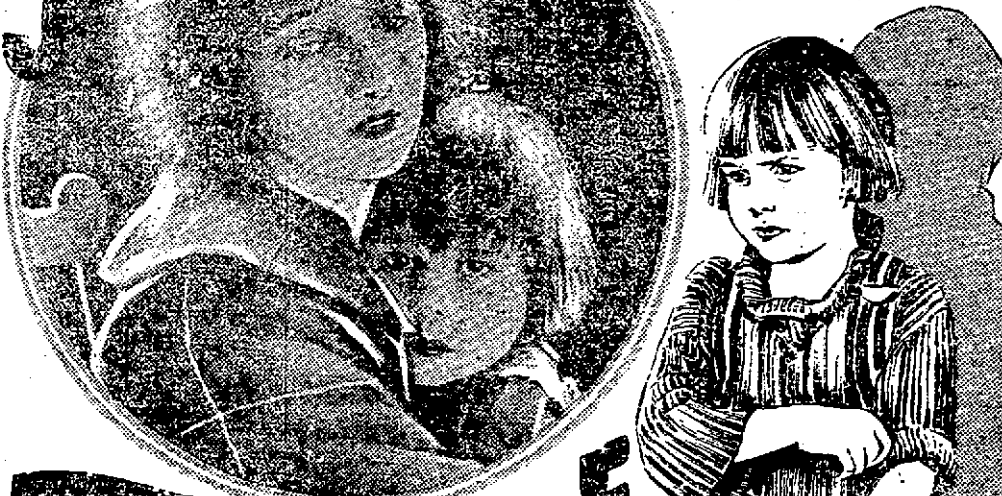

That he takes this opportunity and makes the best of it would be putting it mildly indeed, for those who have seen "Trouble" projected at private previews, claim that Jackie has given the screen lovers of the foremost conservationists in the middlewest, gave a brief history of Indiana's park development, and of Turkey Run in particular; how it came into being, and how his department is tirelessly endeavoring to establish a chain of parks throughout this commonwealth.

Turkey Run is Indiana's monument to her centennial in 1916, he said. The area is 479-acres. It is the only area of any size in the state where there is a stand of virgin timber and which is symbolic of primitive Indiana. The fight to secure this park was long, difficult and spectacular, with a group of public-spirited citizens arraigned against a timber eager to strip the land of its virgin forest monarchs. With the assistance of the state the area was finally purchased from the timber interests. The closing chapter which added 199-acres to the park was written in November 1920 when, through condemnation proceedings, the state purchased this addition. Purchase was possible, Mr. Lieber said, through the splendid cooperation of Governor McCray, whose sympathy and support to the state park movement has always been manifest yet conservative, because he does not wish to acquire recreational places by burdensome taxation.

Today's session closed with appointment of committees, committee meetings, general discussion and showing conservation department movies.

Tuesday the delegates will inspect the park, hear short addresses by official representatives of the states, enjoy an outdoor meal served on the spacious camping ground, and conclude the day with a camp fire session. Senator James E. Watson will preside. Wednesday's program will be devoted to extension of the state park idea. It is the plan, delegates from many state say, to augment state parks. Conservationists recognize that with a rapid development of good roads, the tourist business now stupendous is interstate. Twenty-two states already have state parks.

There are representatives here from about forty states, many being appointed by the governors of said states and instructed to obtain all data possible on the administration of state parks. Judged from the expressions of many state parks are destined to rapidly increase and as the tourist business grows they will serve as ideal stopping places for transcontinental tourists. National parks and reservations are also expected to profit by the expansion

FURNISH NO FUEL:—Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out; so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth.—Proverbs 26: 20.

Not a Dictator

Probably the most outstanding thing about President Harding's address before the newspapermen in New York recently was the further proof of the fact that he fully realizes his position as chief executive of the nation and that he has no intention of attempting the role of a dictator.

He recognizes himself as bound by certain pledges. He has definite views as to the manner in which those pledges should be fulfilled, and, without assuming to dictate to the coordinate body in congress, he stated in a perfectly clear and forceful manner the action he thinks should be taken. All this, on his part is commendable.

One of the most reassuring features of the Harding administration has been the frequent indication by official acts and utterances that he does not look upon himself as an absolute monarch possessed of infallible judgment and privileged to wield a scepter over the private and public lives of the American people. Nowhere can there be found any manifestation of desire or intention to assume the role of dictator. Truly representative popular government is safe under the leadership of a man who thus understands and upholds constitutional limitations upon his official authority.

As President Harding demonstrated, the Republican party is committed to the settlement of international disputes of a justiciable nature by negotiation, arbitration or adjudication. While the last Republican national platform contained a declaration in favor of an international court, Mr. Harding did not undertake to say that the party is committed to the particular international court set up by the league of nations. In his judgment American participation in the existing court furnishes the best opportunity for fulfillment of that party policy. Mr. Harding recognizes the right of other men to entertain different views as to the manner in which the party pledge shall be fulfilled and he does not follow the example of a certain other executive who denounced as "pinheads" all those who disagreed with him. The people of the country had a right to know in detail the views the president entertained on the subject. They have a right to a full and free discussion of the subject in the senate and an opportunity to express to their representatives their individual views as to the course this government should take. The American policy will not be the product of dictation by one man nor the result of hysteria among many.

As President Harding does not believe in one-man government, neither does he believe in government overwhelmed by one idea. He took occasion to say that he does not hold this world court question paramount. He truly says that our problem is at home invariably call for our first consideration. The whole country may well feel reassured over this new expression of Mr. Harding's primary interest in the welfare of his own country.

"Whatever the merits or demerits of the international court, this country will be neither saved nor ruined by joining or not joining. We have numerous domestic problems of far more immediate importance to our own people as individuals and as a nation. The American people are to be congratulated that they have in the White House a leader who has convictions on important subjects and who has the courage to express his opinions even though he may disagree with many prominent members of his party but who does not assume the un-American attitude of determining by his own dictum exactly what must or must not be done.

TO MEET AT SOUTH BEND

Indianapolis, Ind., May 7.—The Indiana Republican Editorial Association will hold its annual summer meeting in South Bend June 7 to 9, according to an announcement made today. Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover will be the principal speaker. President Harding was unable to accept an invitation to address the editors.

At six o'clock last night, Mrs. L. W. Smith, residing at 329 East street, had just finished preparing the evening meal and stepped to the front of the house to apprise a member of the family that supper was ready. She just stepped out of the room when a terrific bolt of lightning struck the house and doing much damage in the room where the table was set and where in another few seconds the entire family would have been seated.

Mrs. Smith was stunned by the lightning as was her daughter, both collapsing in a fainting condition. Ralph Endicott, a boarder at the Smith home, was knocked down and remained unconscious for some time.

Rosalyn Reed, aged three, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rich Reed of North Main street is a cute little youngster with a sweet disposition. The picture of the little girl recently appeared in the Indianapolis Star's Children's contest.

Mrs. Warder Wyatt and children and Mrs. Lon Link have returned from Lexington, Ky., where they were the guests of relatives.

Soothing Sirup
(Chicago Tribune)

It is interesting to note that missionaries on behalf of the league of nations, who come to us from abroad, are all trying to soothe us into the league. The league is not going to force or discipline any one. It is merely going to create an atmosphere of friendliness. Our attention is called to the fact that under the covenant the objection of one member of the council is sufficient to prevent action of any kind. That is the liberum veto which helped to destroy Poland in the days when one selfish or foolish noble could obstruct any measure proposed in the diet.

The futility of the league in recent crises is easily explained. If a question is important to the great powers, it can not be touched by the league. Only questions that do not imperil world peace questions such as time out of mind, have been settled by the ordinary process of diplomacy, go to the league.

These missionaries are telling us that it is safe for us to go into the league, because nothing can be done to which any member objects, yet they also assert it is essential to world peace that we should join. How can we prevent war upon a warlike or war-threatening enterprise in the league when any member intent can veto action by the league?

Either the league will work or it won't work. If it won't work, as it doesn't, why go into it? If it will work, it will work under the influences of European forces, the nature of which we needn't guess at as it is illustrated in the Europe of today.

What The New Laws Mean

Vital Provisions of the Indiana Statutes That Will Soon Become Effective

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—Governor McCray's long list of economic bills that are being effected by the State Administration, which were singled out by the Governor in his speech at Bloomington, served to center attention on the recent Legislature as a money spender. Incidentally, the review established that all appropriations made by the Legislature amounted to less than half as much as the Democrat leaders' estimate.

From the taxpayers' point of view, the significant thing is that the Legislature did nothing to cause an increase of the state tax rate, but on the contrary make it possible for the levy to be made next year to lower than 27 cent rate now prevailing on each $100 of taxable. For the first time in the history of state affairs, the Legislature worked under the budget law, enacted soon after McCray became Governor, and it was this law that eliminated haphazard appropriation of public money.

For instance, the budget was known to provide in detail for every cent, and unlike the oldtime appropriation bill the exact amount expended for a two-year period was known as soon as the Legislature ended its work on the measure. The total carried by the bill was $17,331,742.68 of which $1,932,000 may be spent before next Sept. 30, and the remainder during the two years after that date. However, the total amount will carry on the work of the twenty state institutions, and the various branches of the state government until Oct. 1, 1925. Other bills provided for expenditure of $327,000.

About 25 cents in every dollar spent by the Legislature will go into permanent improvements, and as such these investments will stand for a century or longer. The net result will be that the twenty state institutions will be put in better condition than they have been in years, and as pointed out by the Governor's Bloomington speech no improvements were made during the war.

All of the new laws, including the appropriation measures, will soon become effective, the distribution of the printed Acts of 1923 to county officials being almost complete. The laws, classed as appropriation bill, follow:

THE BUDGET—House enrolled act. No. 198 is the budget law, authorizing expenditure of $17,331,742.68 by the state until Oct. 1, 1923. The Act is a new departure in appropriation acts in Indiana and is in compliance with the budget law, advocated by Governor McCray when he assumed office in 1921. Democrats and Republicans agreed on virtually every item of the budget act, in preparing the bill for the Legislature that will be made by the state for more than two years, and provides the money that will permit improvements of every one of the 20 institutions, maintained by the state to care for more than 12,000 wards, including the insane, the sick, and the violators of laws.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL COMMISSION—House enrolled act. No. 395 creates a Lincoln Memorial Commission of nine members, three of whom shall be members of the last Legislature, and all of whom "shall be of known interest in and sympathy with the selection of a proper memorial to be erected to the memory of Abraham Lincoln." The Governor is directed to appoint the commissioners, who shall serve without compensation, and the commission is to execute the plans for erecting a suitable memorial to Lincoln's memory at or near the place of his residence in the state of Indiana. An appropriation of $5,000 is made to carry out the plan with the money to become available Oct. 1, 1923.

THE BLIND SCHOOL—House enrolled act. No. 260 provides for the removal of the Indiana School for the Blind in Indiana to a site not fewer than 20 acres in Marion county, with $200,000 being appropriated to provide for building the new institution. The old school site form a part of the World War Memorial plaza.

DEEP WATERWAYS COMMISSION—House enrolled act. No. 288 creates a commission of three persons, appointed by the Governor, to co-operate with commission of other states in furthering the development of the waterway, connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic. The Bill provides an appropriation of $12,000 annually beginning July 1, 1923.

EXPENSES OF LEGISLATURE—House enrolled act. No. 1 appropriates $100,000 to pay the expenses of the Legislature.

FIRST EAST-WEST GAMES TO BEGIN

Pennant-Seekers of Two Big Leagues Will Get Out of Preliminaries Into Real Stuff

WILL TEST EASTERN CLUBS

Yanks Will Have Tougher Time Than Giants Because They Will Start Away From Home

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 7—With the first east-west conflicts of the season starting tomorrow, the pennant-seekers of the two big leagues will get out of the preliminaries into real stuff.

The hardest test falls upon the eastern clubs as the bulk of strength in both big leagues is found in the west.

In leading the forces of the east, the two champion clubs will have dark horses with them. The Giants and the surprising Braves will be the eastern color bearers of the National League and the Philadelphia Athletics will help the Yanks uphold the honor of the east in the American League.

Starting away from home, the Yanks will have a tougher job than the Giants to hold their own against their powerful western opposition. The Indians, Tigers, White Sox and Browns in a row on foreign fields will be a most severe test for the Yanks and in their present condition the American League captains are in rather a bad way to meet such a test.

The Giants begin with the Cubs, then they take on the Pirates, Reds, and Cards. Even though their pitching staff is upset, the Giants are in a better position than the Yanks as they have the advantage of their home grounds and that means much to any ball club.

So far the Giants and Yanks have had it rather soft in getting fat off the weaker eastern clubs, while the western clubs in both leagues have been getting ready for the inter-sectional skirmishes under real hard battle conditions.

REACHES END OF HIS STRING

Critics Think Carpentier Should Retire Following Sunday Exhibition

Paris, May 7—Georges Carpentier, former idol of France, has reached the end of his string and should retire from the ring, according to the verdict of Paris boxing critics who saw him knock out Marcel Nilles, French heavyweight, yesterday in the eighth round.

Although Carpentier won, it was the general opinion that even a second-rate American heavyweight would have finished Georges in the second round when Nilles clipped him on the jaw and had him out on his feet. Nilles beat him down with body blows and had he not been timid about going in he might have won.

Draws Huge Crowds

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 7—Attendance at the early games of the baseball season made it apparent that the crowds in the future will be regulated only by the size of the parks in the big towns. It is no longer a question of the number of fans who want to see the players in action, but a problem of the rather limited number of them who can be allowed to see the games.

There is little doubt that 100,000 would have been present at the dedication of the new Yankee stadium if the park was big enough to hold them. As it was, there were approximately 75,000 in the stands and about 25,000 were turned away.

The first five games of the season played by the Yankees drew more than 200,000 through the gates of the huge stadium and established a mark that is almost unbelievable.

Interest in the game is not confined to New York, as a heavy increase in attendance has been observed in all of the big league towns and in a corresponding degree in the important minor points.

Ban Johnson predicted last season that the game has reached its peak and that there would be a slump in interest this year, but that just helps to prove that whenever Johnson expresses any kind of an opinion he is nearly always wrong.

Washington is sending a crew on again this year to row the best eights in the east on the Hudson at Poughkeepsie. The invasion of the westerners hasn't aroused the eastern schools to any hilarity, as it is a rather general belief that another championship is about to leave the east.

It took one of the greatest crews ever developed to beat Washington last year, and that great Navy crew has been broken up by the graduation of seven oarsmen.

There are no outstanding crews in the east and the Washington eight proved its class by defeating the California crew for the championship of the Pacific Coast.

With so many examples to prove that it is almost impossible to over-estimate the tremendous interest in sports in this country, it would seem that the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills, is making a mistake in building its new stadium to accommodate only 10,000 spectators. Without figuring on the natural increase of interest in tennis that can be expected in ten years, the stadium will hardly be big enough now to accommodate the crowds that will want to see the Davis Cup challenge round.

THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY

Arlington Athletic Club Defeats Brookside Cubs of Indianapolis

The Arlington Athletic club baseball team defeated the Brookside Cubs of Indianapolis Sunday afternoon by the score of 10 to 7. The Cubs got away with a four run lead at the start of the game. The Arlington team, however, got busy in the latter part of the game and by heavy batting work won out.

Morris and Northrup comprised the pitching staff for the A. C. and Hank caught. This made the third straight win for the Arlington ball players and next Sunday they hope to add another victory to their list when they play at Greensburg.

RUSHVILLE PUTS OVER A WIN IN FIRST GAME

New Baseball Team Defeats Acton Comets Sunday, 14 to 7, Young Pitcher Showing up Well

HEMPHILL CHALKS UP HOMER

The Rushville baseball team opened the season here Sunday with a victory over the Acton Comets, winning 14 to 7, and displaying unusual ball for the first game. Benkley, a young pitcher, worked well for the locals, allowing 4 hits and fanning 13 batters.

The Rushville team hit the ball hard, and pounded Hahn and Leslie hard. Hemphill, outfielder for the locals got a home run, and Shaw, playing third, got four hits out of 5 trips.

Other players on the team were Pearsey, Sharp, Herman, Carnes, Cooke, Conway and Hemphill. The management has a proposition to sign Plummer as pitcher and Klopff as catcher and a fast ball club will be put in the field. The game next Sunday will be with the Indiana Travelers, a fast team of Indianapolis, and a series with Shelbyville and Greensburg will be arranged for the following games.

DOZEN AMERICANS AMONG ENTRANTS

British Amateur Golf Championships Open With Britishers Holding Their Fingers Crossed

ARE FEARFUL OF RESULTS

(By United Press)
Deal, England, May 7—The British amateur golf championships started here this morning with a dozen Americans among the entrants.

British golf enthusiasts crossed their fingers, hoping that W. E. Holderness, present amateur title holder, Cyril Tolley, esthete champion or Roger Wethered, would reach a form preventing repetition of the disastrous St. George challenge cup matches.

Francis Ouimet of Brookline, Robert A. Gardner, captain of the American team, F. J. Wright of Los Angeles and Dr. O. P. Willing of Portland, Ore., are most feared among the American starters. Willing drew a bye in the first round and watched his comrades.

There is a chance that Francis Ouimet and Cyril Tolley may cross clubs before the semi-final and the British experts already are whetting their appetites in anticipation of the match.

The weather was ideal as the first pair got off from the starting tee at 9:30 a. m.

Ouimet easily defeated A. H. Reed four and three.

Roger Wethered had a harder time defeating E. R. Campbell, one up.

The Score Board

Walter Johnson helped to score four runs in the second inning with a triple and the Senators beat the Red Sox 4-1.

Chick Galloway cleared the bases with a sock in the sixth giving the Athletics a 5-1 victory over the Yanks.

With two homers and a single "Rajah" Hornshy led the attack which enabled the Cards to win from the Cubs 16 to 4.

Six runs scored in the first three innings gave the Robins a 7-4 win over the Phils. Fournier reported and played his first game for Brooklyn.

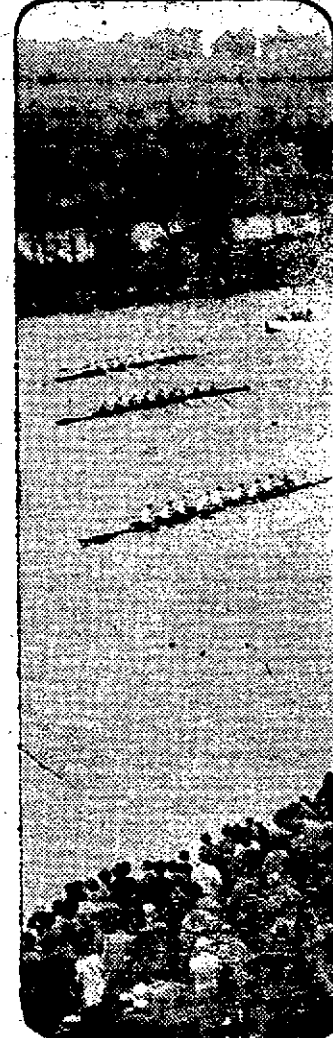

With two down in the ninth, the Browns scored two runs on singles by Tobin and Foster and a double by Jacobson and they beat the Indians 5-4.

Five runs scored on a rally in the eighth inning gave the Reds an 8 to 7 victory over the Pirates. Grinnitt pitched first, basemap, hit safely in his ninth game.

Good support behind the good pitching of Robertson gave the White Sox a 4-3 win over the Tigers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hollingsworth, who has rooms at the home of Miss Laura Trussler in North Harrison street, accidentally fell in the kitchen of the home Sunday morning, and sustained a serious injury to her hip. It was not determined whether the hip was fractured, but she was to be examined by doctors some time today, to determine the extent of the injury.

LOCAL MASONS TO VISIT FRANKLIN

Benediction: Sir Knight Lewis Brown.

The committee in charge of these ceremonies comprises Eugene Vatet, Muncie; Harry G. Strickland, Greenfield; George S. Parker, Anderson; Adrian Hamersly, Edward J. Seconover and Paul J. Maus, Indianapolis.

The Boy's Dormitory, to be consecrated, was made possible by contributions of the Knights Templar of Indiana. It is a two story and basement brick structure, fifty by one hundred feet, built on the double cottage plan. At present it houses seventy boys, thirty-five on each side, and is fully equipped for the purpose intended. The first floor has the study and play rooms for the boys. Also a lobby, cloak and reception rooms. On the second floor are the dormitories proper; three sides of which are windows, affording splendid light. The matron's rooms are also on this floor. The toilet, bath and locker rooms are in the basement. Over the entrance door of the building the Knights Templar emblem, in proper colors, of Rookwood tile, has been placed. McGuire & Shook, Indianapolis, are the architects.

Credit for the idea for this splendid addition to the buildings on the Indiana Masonic Home grounds at Franklin and carrying it to such successful fruition belongs to Eugene Vatet of Muncie, Past Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of Indiana. After conceiving the idea he planned the building, and then consulted with active members of the Order on the feasibility of the project. The idea was endorsed by them. His next step was to visit every Commandery of Knights Templar in Indiana, laying his plan before each. All endorsed it heartily. The raising of funds to make the idea a reality was a labor cheerfully placed upon himself. It stands as his monument as Grand stands as his monument as Grand Commander of the Knights Templar.

Fletcher Boyd, superintendent of the Masonic Home, will keep open house all day of the Consecration, to which all Indiana and visiting Masons and Knights Templar are invited and requested to avail themselves, visiting the residents and inspecting the buildings.

CONVERSIONS REPORTED

Splendid services for the young people were conducted Sunday morning and evening at the United Brethren church. A talk was given to them in the morning by the pastor, the Rev. Mrs. Emma Miller, and in the evening Judge Will M. Sparks spoke to the young people on "The Kingdom of God to Be Sought As the Most Essential Thing in Life." The message was very inspirational and at the close two young men came forward and accepted Jesus as their Redeemer. In an after-meeting a young lady confessed Jesus. The congregation were very appreciative of Mr. Sparks' message.

STECH MARRIES 2 COUPLES

John P. Stech, justice of the peace, performed two marriage ceremonies Saturday afternoon, at his office in the court house. The couples were Thomas West, a laborer of this city and Lest Hileman, also of this city; Miss Carlyle Emsweller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Emsweller and Lawrence Miller, son of Henry Miller of near New Salem.

Yonkers—N. Y. Getting shot in church is the latest here. Frank Taylor and Charles Minnerly both stopped bullets in the basement target range of a church here within a week.

AS NEW YORK PRESS VIEWED "CLARENCE"

High School Senior Cast Putting In Extra Licks, by Practicing Each Day, To Assure Good Show.

The cast of the local Senior class play, "Clarence," is now working double time to assure themselves and the public that a well polished and finished production of Clarence will be presented May 22 and 23. Their school schedules have been so arranged so as to release them the last hour in the school day and they practice from that time until five o'clock, as well as in the evening.

"The time for the play is growing nearer, and it is better to have it well in hand before the time than to give a performance that is not up to the standard of the ability of the local talent," said a member of the cast today.

In reading of the great success of Clarence in other places the following press comments are found from New York newspapers:

"No other play this season stirred such genuine enthusiasm."—New York American.

"To our mind 'Clarence' is the best light comedy which has ever been written by an American."—New York Tribune.

"Clarence" is a most engaging, happy-go-lucky and agreeable work."—New York Morning Telegraph.

"Clarence" is as funny and high class a comedy as Broadway has seen in longer than any one need bother to remember."—New York Herald.

"Mr. Tarkington's most successful comedy since 'The Man From Home.'"—New York Evening Sun.

"Clarence" is a comedy of rare delight. The most joyous entertainment now visible and the best comedy of this particular sort of American life yet written."—New York Globe.

"Clarence" deserves a place alongside the best American comedies of the day."—New York Commercial.

"Clarence" is one of the season's most delightful comedies."—New York Call.

"Clarence" is Tarkington at his best—a real delight."—New Journal of Commerce.

"Tarkington's 'Clarence' is a knockout."—New York Evening Journal.

"Clarence" is the big comedy hit of the season."—New York Evening Telegram.

The Verbenas Of Today

In the brilliant colored large flowered verbenas of today, our grandmothers would hardly recognize the old-fashioned flower which two generations ago had only a few pure colors, but offered many dingy magenta shades which would not be tolerated now. They were favorites even then, because to cover bald heads quickly or to form masses of foliage completely covering the ground and thickly studded with fragrant flowers verbenas are hard to beat.

As the plant sends out runners in all directions which root at the joints it is an excellent ground cover. It is particularly effective in beds of a solid color, such as the intense scarlet of the variety Defiance, the rich purple shades, and the beautiful pink Mayflower. Nearly all of the newer types have the ground color handsomely set off by a white eye.

In addition to its usefulness and beauty as a bedding plant the verbenas give beautiful material for cutting and its fragrance is an added factor in its favor. The seeds, which look like tiny sticks, should be given an early start. It is rather slow of germination and the young plants should not be expected to appear for at least two weeks. The seed leaves are narrow and pointed, and once seen will be easily recognized.

The verbenas bloom steadily until hard freezing weather, as it stands considerable frost in the open. It requires fairly rich soil to produce its most luxuriant growth, but will do well in almost any situation, provided only it is in full sun. Verbenas should not be set closer than 18 inches apart.

A different species from the ordinary bedding type, Verbenas venosa is an upright grower with brilliant purple and heliotrope flowers. This is much used in parks to give masses of color. Still another very dainty type is known as Verbenas erinodonta, having finely cut foliage and purplish rose blooms changing to blue.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made by Many Rushville Citizens

Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right.

A Rushville resident tells you how. Mrs. Will Stout, corner N. Oliver and Tenth streets, says: "I can certainly say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills for they have done wonders for me when I have used them. I was suffering with my back which was lame and sore. When I did any lifting or stooping, sharp pains caught me in the small of my back. My kidneys felt dull and were too free in action. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box. They rid me of the trouble in a short time."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Stout had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

THE HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

TEN WEEKS' STOCKS

Attractive both for its fragrance and for its handsome flowers, in many soft shades, the ten weeks' stock is a favorite bedding plant. However, it has developed a trick which has caused many gardeners to discard it. During the last few years some of the strains sold develop a habit of forming great tufts of leaves and failing to show a flower during the season, or until very late.

These plants, one authority says, are the result of crossing with some of the biennial forms of stock, which have spoiled the purity of the annual strain, and they are being weaned out as fast as they can be found. This may or may not be the case, but several growers say they have solved this trouble by cutting the tap root when they transplant wherever it is grown. The purple and lavender shades with the soft pinks and yellows are particularly attractive.

These plants are very easily raised annually from seed. One essential is to secure a first-class strain of seed from a reliable seed house. These seeds are selected from free-flowering types and least likely to give the leafy non-blooming plants.

The dwarf ten weeks' stocks are less likely to develop the leaf plants than the "cut-and-come-again" type. The latter have more biennial blood in them. The stocks like an open situation, where they will have plenty of sun, and like fairly rich soil, but will flourish in soil having less food supply than some other annuals. The dwarf ten weeks' stocks planted to beds of single colors can furnish a very beautiful all-summer garden in themselves.

Their spicy fragrance is most noticeable at nightfall and they are fine for cutting.

Filling Stations Erected Outside Of Boundary Will Do Little Business

Indianapolis, Ind., May 7.—Gasoline dealers who are reported to be erecting filling stations along the state line just outside the boundary, in order to evade the gasoline tax will do little business according to an opinion expressed today by Robert Bracken, state auditor.

Consumers who attempt to procure large supplies of gasoline before the tax goes into effect June 1 will be discovered, he predicted. Organization of the gasoline tax collection department through Charles G. Benjamin, director, is nearing completion.

SCIENCE ACADEMY TO HOLD MEETING

Spring Session Will be Held at Brookville, Where it Was Established 37 Years Ago

TRIBUTE TO AMOS BUTLER

Society Has Over 400 Members and Many Are Expected to Attend Meeting May 10 to 12

Indianapolis, Ind., May 7.—The Indiana Academy of Science will hold its spring meeting and field excursion at Brookville, Indiana, on May 10, 11, 12. This meeting will be in the nature of tribute to Amos W. Butler, one of the founders of the Academy of Science, in 1885. Mr. Butler was formerly secretary of the State Board of Charities, resigning from that position, on January 1, of this year after twenty-five years of continuous service.

The first spring meeting of the Academy of Science held in Brookville thirty-seven years ago was a memorable event. Dr. David Starr Jordan, now President-emeritus of Stanford University and world famous scientist, was president of the organization at time and the principal speaker at its first meeting.

The meeting this year will be in co-operation with the Kiwanis Club of Brookville with John D. Goodwin as chairman of the local committee. Brookville is in one of the most picturesque sections of Indiana, situated at the junction of two branches of historic White River, and surrounded by high hills. It is readily accessible by excellent state roads and many members will make the trip by auto to obtain the beautiful scenic effects.

From Brookville excursions along the White River and its tributaries will be made by auto and on foot, and the natural history of the region will be studied. Informal discussions of the days trip will be held every evening.

Thursday evening May 10, there will be a big public meeting at which brief addresses as follows will be given: "Brookville and its Contribution to the Intellectual Life of the State," by John C. Shirk, "The Geological Aspects of Brookville and Vicinity" by Rev. D. R. Moore, "Changes in Indiana Flora" by Professor Stanley Coulter, Purdue University; "Some Reminiscences of Early Academy Days" by Amos W. Butler.

The Indiana Academy of Science has over 400 members mostly among the science teaching staffs of the universities, colleges and high schools of the state. However, its membership is not restricted to persons actually engaged in scientific work, and persons who are interested in any branch of science are invited to attend its meeting.

The Value of Personal Contact

PERSONAL contact is essential to the growth of complete understanding.

When business operations and business organizations were small the employer could know his employees personally and the merchant could know his customers. All had the advantage that comes from the intimacy of close, personal acquaintanceship. Misunderstandings were easily adjusted. Every man knew every other man as a citizen and as a friend, and there was no suspicion of motives.

Today, when big enterprise is the order of business; when large accumulations of capital are essential to the accomplishment of undertakings of real value to the public, the several groups are denied the advantage of this personal contact.

Recognizing this handicap, the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has established a system of direct personal contact with the great body of employees and through them, with the public.

The management maintains close, personal relations with the employees through the Department of Industrial Relations, where the employer and employee get together on common ground to discuss and settle, in friendly conference, questions of mutual interest.

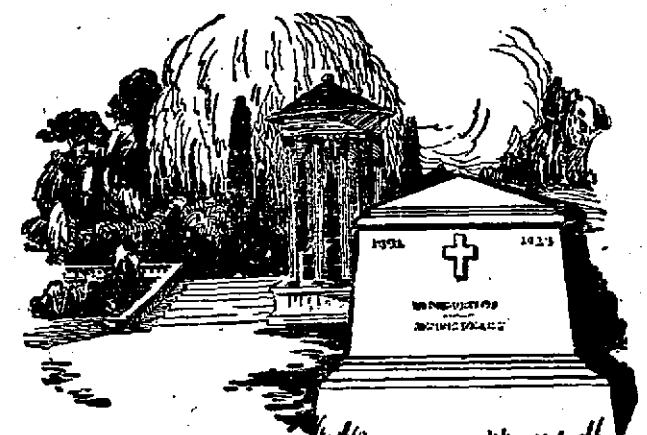

To promote still closer relationship, the Board of Directors, as a body, make frequent visits to refineries and to the field, where they meet and confer with the great body of employees.

The value of this personal contact is reflected in the harmonious relations which exist between the Company and the earnest, loyal, hard-working employees, who thriftyly invest their savings in the Company's business and who have added interest in seeing that the Company's customers get efficient service.

signed contracts with teachers for the next school term, and such a policy could not be adopted for the next term.

The matter of making a uniform system of agricultural instruction was voted upon, and beginning next fall, all of the vocational teachers will be under the supervision of Donald D. Ball, county agent, who can be so designated, according to the county agent law.

The trustees did not feel that their finances would warrant the support of a visiting nurse for the schools, and the project was dropped.

Miss Grace Ewing, county Red Cross nurse, who has been working in the schools for the term which is now ending, will finish her work in a few days. She was formerly paid by the Red Cross chapter, but their finances are also becoming short, and the plan was advanced to get aid from the various townships in order to sustain a nurse during the school months.

He also recalled the words of McKinley, "Tell Mother I'll be there," when he received word of her illness, which inspired the famous illness, which inspired the famous "There," by Charles Fillmore.

If I Could Operate a Stenotype—

SPEEDY and accurate stenotype operators are always in demand to take lectures, testimony and other special jobs, as well as regular dictation. Any person who owns and can operate a stenotype will experience no difficulty in securing work.

I know that if I were a stenotype operator, I'd run an ad in the Classified Columns of The Daily Republican and line up some special work for the coming months.

and the inspectors worked on the case here, and arrested Caron, who admitted his guilt and served a sentence of one year in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

He had been suspected of knowing about the postoffice robbery, and he had been questioned several times about it, but nothing ever developed in the case, as far as it has been learned, until the inspectors arrived here yesterday and made the arrest.

The local man was being detained in jail awaiting the arrival of the federal officers to take him to Indianapolis, where some kind of a federal charge will be placed against him, it is said.

It is stated that several other Rushville young men were questioned last night concerning the affair but the entire proceeding has been wrapped in mystery, and even the officers here have few details of the affair.

The matter of making a uniform system of agricultural instruction was voted upon, and beginning next fall, all of the vocational teachers will be under the supervision of Donald D. Ball, county agent, who can be so designated, according to the county agent law.

The trustees did not feel that their finances would warrant the support of a visiting nurse for the schools, and the project was dropped.

Miss Grace Ewing, county Red Cross nurse, who has been working in the schools for the term which is now ending, will finish her work in a few days. She was formerly paid by the Red Cross chapter, but their finances are also becoming short, and the plan was advanced to get aid from the various townships in order to sustain a nurse during the school months.

AMUSEMENTS

At The Mystic Again
Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced screen idol, was given a taste of high life in the Big City during the filming on the Warner Brothers production, Gus Edwards' "School Days," which will be shown at the Mystic Theatre again today.
The picture reveals life in a rural community, and then shifts to the locale of New York City. For the first time Wesley glimpses the vast and commodious Pennsylvania railroad station, and he confessed that the first look almost staggered him. Then they put him into a taxicab and whirled him down fifth Avenue. And when he took a squint at the tall buildings, he said that they were laid flat on the ground.
From this scene Wesley was whizzed into a palatial residence. Scores of butlers and servants were at his command. The butler announced that he was wanted on the telephone, and poor Wesley, not having talked over the wire very much, was flabbergasted. But he finally put the receiver to his ear. When he replied he dropped the receiver and described what he meant to convey as though he were talking to someone close beside him.
After partaking of the comforts of the palatial residence, including one of the finest shower baths he had ever had the pleasure to enjoy, he donned his tuxedo, put on his straw hat, threw his cane over his arm and hopped into a high powered motor. "School, James!" called Wesley to the chauffeur. And he was whizzed to a private school where only the children of wealthy people are to be seen.

Coogan Here Again Today

When you go to see Jackie Coogan in "Trouble," his latest First National release, at the Princess again today, you will find supporting him two of the best known players on the screen. They are Gloria Hope and Wallace Beery. Miss Hope, a Pittsburg girl, is regarded as one of the handsomest young women on the screen and is noted for her magnificent crown of auburn hair. She has been a star almost since the time she quit school, five years ago, and "broke into" the movies.
Beery, one of the most talented actors in America is the heavy in "Trouble" and is the generator of most of the substance from which the picture gets its title. He is called upon to go through a bitter rough and tumble battle with a husky policeman, but that is nothing new in the life of Beery, for he

NOT MEAT AND DRINK—
For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—
Romans 14: 17.

Uncle Joe Is 87

The nation paid tribute Monday to the venerable old legislator, "Uncle Joe" Cannon in celebration of his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary. "This demonstration is compensation for my half century of public service," said Uncle Joe.

It is indeed compensation enough, to hear the plaudits of your fellow-townsmen, who have never lost faith in you; to know that you have always kept the faith.

This formed the keynote to Uncle Joe's appeal to the kindly friends gathered there to do him honor.

"I have learned that good will triumph over evil and that America will rise to meet her problems," he said. "Have faith that right will prevail."

This has been the guiding star of his life, and believing himself right, he kept going forward, dealing with public problems in the way that he thought was fair and honest and best, during more than twenty-five sessions of congress in which he served.

There was a time when Uncle Joe doubtless found it difficult to hie to the line. When speaker of the house, he was assailed on every side by flea-biting pignies, whose names have long since been forgotten. In a wave of radicalism he was dethroned as the "czar," as he termed, but Uncle Joe vindicated himself and the things for which he stood by returning to congress for many terms after being removed as speaker.

He now retires to rest the remainder of his life, convinced that right will prevail. He who may be over-coming, at times, with despair and forebodings, should remember the lesson the life of the Danville legislator teaches us—to follow the dictates of conscience and be assured that the things which are good and true will eventually prevail.

Chicago, a big city of many thrills, has been all a-flutter of late over a poor little girl who was born out of wedlock.

She was adopted in infancy by a kind hearted couple and brought up as their own daughter. Every possible love and care was lavished upon her, she was happy and contented, and the world was ignorant of the stain upon her birth.

The little girl is now twelve years of age, two young to understand the penalties and the purgatory of illegitimacy, as many others have known before her.

But she will not always be in ignorance, for the real mother claimed her and went into court to obtain possession of her, revealing her shame to the world.

Some day this little girl will be a young woman, and then she will understand, and will feel, and the blush of shame will never leave the fair young brow.

Should the real mother have claimed the child after all of these years, making public the same of its birth, or should she have continued to bear her heart pangs in silence in order that her innocent flesh and blood might be saved pangs equally as great?

What would genuine and unselfish mother love have done?

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. Ida Hewitt, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Save Money on Coal

Coal is nearly always lower in price in the spring than at any other time of the year.

9 people out of 10 would rather wait until summer or fall to lay in their winter's coal. But the best mines very often can't mine enough or get cars to ship enough coal to meet the heavy late demand.

Therefore, the price goes up, and very often the coal dealer is forced to buy an inferior grade to meet the heavy demand.

We can now take your order for any of the coal listed below, and you can feel safe that you will get good coal.

Campbell's Creek lump	$9.00
Campbell's Creek egg	$9.00
Indiana egg	$7.00
Pocahontas egg	$11.25
Coke	$13.00

Prices are somewhat lower on soft coal if you haul it yourself.

SECOND ROUND IS NOW UNDER WAY

Light Wind and Cooler Weather Greeted Surviving Players in Championship Golf Meet

AT DEAL ENGLAND COURSE
Nine Americans Remained in the Play When the Second Round Started This Morning

(By United Press)
Deal, England May 8—A light northeast wind cooled the course as the surviving Americans and British began the second round of the British amateur championship matches today. It was slightly against the players going out.

Nine Americans remained in the play. Five dropped yesterday when the two American stars, Jess Sweetzer, amateur champion, and Robert Gardner, were defeated.

Hundreds of spectators followed the course.
David Harrison Herron, Chicago was the first American to finish. He defeated J. B. Heddard two up and one to play. Their match was in the first round, they being unable to compete yesterday.

Francis Ouimet, the American star, defeated the Britisher, F. Darwin, three up and two to play.
J. F. Neville, San Francisco, won from D. A. Card, seven up and six to play.

Dr. O. P. Willing, Portland Ore., who has been displaying remarkable form, defeated Robert Grant, Jr., three up and one to play. Willing had drawn a bye in the first round.

Robert Hunter, Oakland, Calif., was eliminated by E. K. Fragley, British entrant, six up and five to play.

Roger Wethered, runner up for the championship last year, survived the second round, defeating C. C. Aylmer, four up and two to play.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Won Moral Victory

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 8—One of those queer twists of fate or a break in luck, if it might be considered as such, enabled Fred Fulton to redeem himself just as he was about to pass down on the books with the most uncomplimentary epitaph in sports—"a diver".

The strange parlance of the boxing ring has applied to a fighter who quits under punishment the title of "a dog", a "diver" or "a tanker". Fulton had come into the possession of all of them. He was regarded as being yellow, a faint-hearted giant, who always "looked for the ham-mock" when he was hurt.

Because he was never popular personally and because he pleaded a fake fight after he was knocked out by one of Jack Dempsey's punches, Fulton came into possession of all the inglorious titles of the ring and he didn't exactly deserve them.

Fulton had been knocked out only by Al Palzer, Dempsey, Harry Wills and Billy Miske. Three of them are about the best heavyweights in the country, but because he went down so quickly it was thought that he was willing to get it over with as soon as possible and he was judged accordingly.

As a rule, a "diver" has little trouble in getting matches. Some of them make good money by being used as trial horses. For young heavyweights of stouter hearts and heavier punches, but Fulton could not get matches. They were all afraid of him, because he was known as a most dangerous fighter when he got out ahead and he had a murderous punch when he wasn't being punished.

Fulton had no chance to vindicate himself. He showed symptoms of courage when he signed to meet Harry Wills when every heavyweight in the class, including the champion, was giving the big colored fighter the wide go by. Fulton had the chance then to show that he was not a "diver", but the conviction against him became all the more fixed when he lost with a quick knockout.

The Minnesota plasterer was just about to give up his career and go down on the books with his blotted record, when young Floyd Johnson came along. Johnson is the most unusual fighter of a decade and he has the most extraordinary manager in the business. Hardly more than a novice, with nothing but a super-confidence in himself, Johnson set up working up to a bout with Dempsey by offering to fight any heavyweight in the class. He promised to beat Bill Brennan, Jess Willard, Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills all in a row before he asked for a championship bout, and he sent about doing it.

Johnson's manager does not believe in gymnasiums. He has the sound but dangerous theory that one hard fight does more to bring out a young fighter than a thousand workouts with sparring partners. Seeking a fight to get his charge in shape for Willard, the manager signed with Fred Fulton. They all said he was crazy. They pointed out that Johnson was in grave danger of being knocked out and that if he did stop Fulton, he would get nothing but the old song that Freddie hit the tank.

It was a break in luck for Fulton, as he couldn't get engagements and he made the most of it. He lost a newspaper decision to Johnson, but he won the moral victory.

Guests were present from Greensburg, Shelbyville, Knightstown, Connersville and other nearby places. Some trouble was caused by the wires on electric light meter burning out, but they were repaired.

A very pretty social affair was given Monday evening by Mrs. Norman Crum, Mrs. Charles Boys and Mrs. Wilbur Wilson for the members of the Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church and invited guests, in the church basement. Violets and violet crepe paper made beautiful decorations for the room and a large floor lamp cast a soft glow over the room. After a short business meeting a very delightful program was given, with Mrs. Norman Crum as the leader. America was sung for the opening hymn, followed by prayer by the Circle mother, Mrs. L. E. Brown.

Miss Nelle Trobaugh had charge of the Bible study and Miss Brenda Kinsinger rendered a number of appreciated piano selections. Three interesting papers were prepared on the subject "Negro American" by Miss Mildred Boys, Mrs. Curt Hester and Mrs. Norman Crum. A duet was sung by Mrs. Neff Ashworth and Mrs. Will Amos following the paper and the Misses Helen Bell and Mary Huddleson of Mayh gave a group of readings.

After the benediction a social hour was enjoyed by the forty-three members and guests present. Delicious refreshments of punch and wafers were served. A silver offering was taken at the door and the proceeds will be used to obtain the circle's aim for the coming year.

HOW TO DRESS TO PLEASE MEN

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)

New York, May 8—Opinion has in that woman dress to please men. If this be true, many women certainly make a mess of their attempt. Men are simply creatures after all, and most of them do not know an exquisite gown from a cheap one. There is but one thing which catches their childish eyes—femininity in dress. They like colors and dainty effects which are entirely foreign to their own sombre apparel.

How many times we see some brainless little doll dressed in ribbons and feminine fol-de-rol holding the attention of a staid business man. Her gown is one that would perhaps be censured by the discriminating eyes of her sex, but the man sees only its color and feminine attractiveness. His heartstrings are made of lace and the girl who holds them in her dainty hands shuns everything masculine in her attire and plays up to the womanly instincts.

It isn't often that the girl in mannish attire is sought after by the male sex, yet many girls go even so far as to wear stiff collars and cuffs and mannish ties with their tailored suits. Needless to say, they have about a much chance with the average man as a man with a lace-edged handkerchief would have with a woman. Suits that are made of manish tweeds and cut on masculine lines do not attract the average man so similar to his own. If all women wore sport shoes and woolen stockings there would be few "ankle gazers" about, for the minute a woman ceases to be feminine in her attire she ceases to be a mystery to men.

Clothes need not be expensive to attract men, for men haven't the slightest idea of what clothes cost. They will, however, know whether your collar is made of stiff linen or of dainty lace and they will know whether the blue of your hat is the exact shade of your eyes. It is always the feminine touch that appeals to them. Clothes men wear are certain to attract their attention. Bizarre effects in dress appeal to certain men, but these men are not those who could be inveigled into moving their own lawns and drying the supper dishes for the gingham-aproned wife, so it is unwise to play up to them.
